Comments and Likes
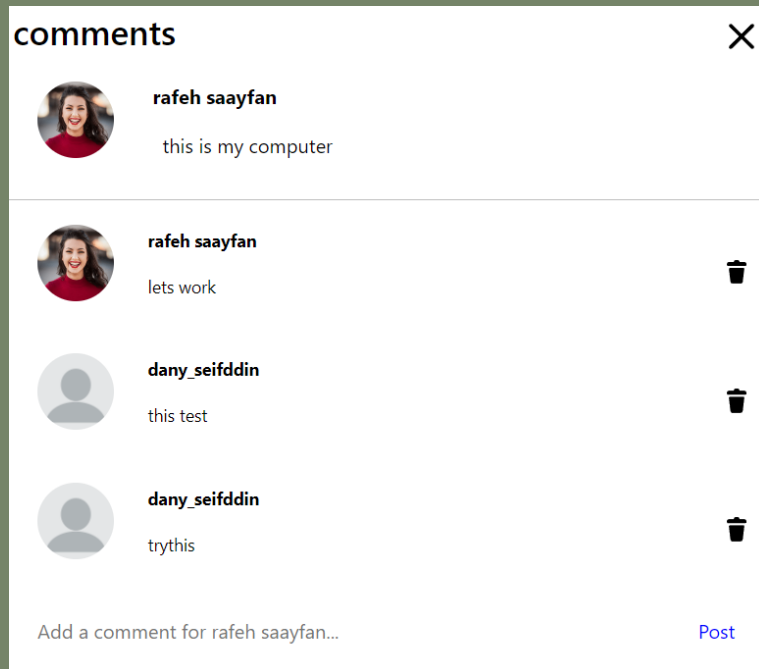

On this page, we display all comments for every post. By clicking on any user name or photo, you can access the profile of that user. You can only delete your own comments; you have control to delete them. However, if you are the owner of the post, you have the ability to delete any comment on that post.
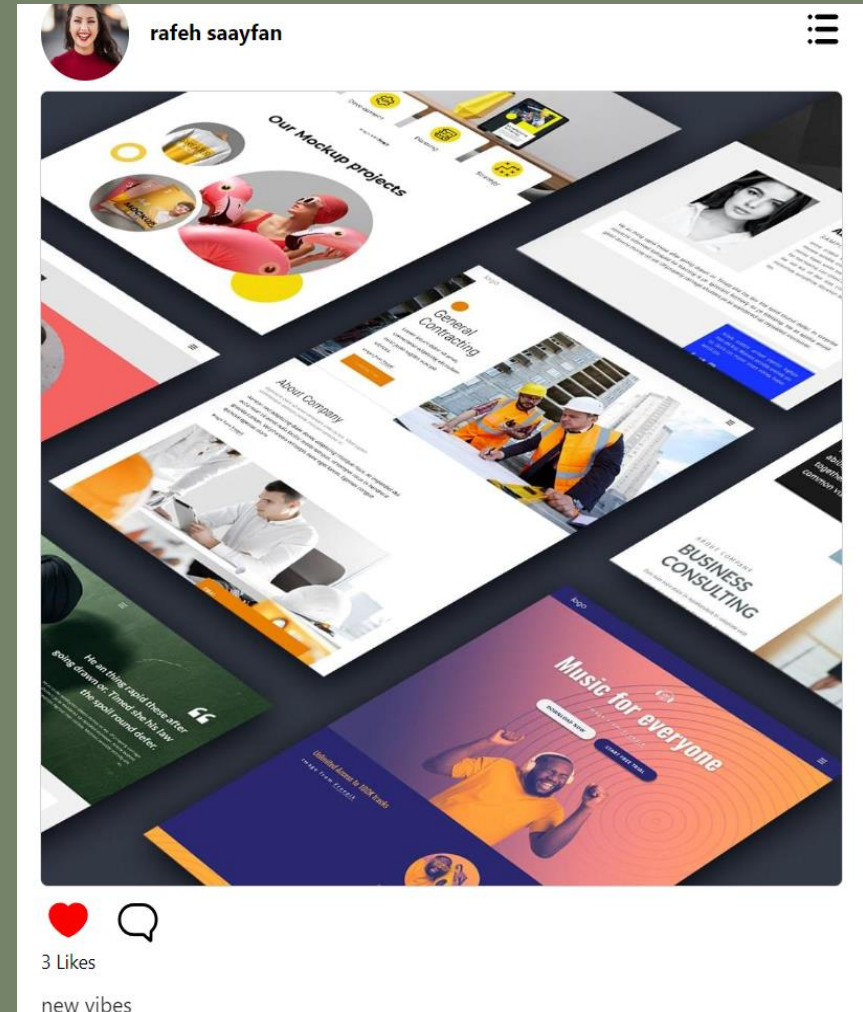

Likes:

On this page, we display all likes for every post. By clicking on any user name or photo, you can access the profile of that user

Home

On the Home page, you can show all users posts and perform all the aforementioned features(like, comment, see other profile) regularly and based on the permissions granted to each user.

Search

On this page, you can search for any user by simply typing their name. The user accounts that match your search will be displayed on the page instantly, without the need for refreshing or submitting.
